

Please leave wisconsin's No-Call law as it is. This law was voted on by the citizens of the state of wisconsin, so it is the desire of the citizens to keep the law as is.

If you feel that you must change the law, require telemarketers to apply for each citizen's telephone advertising rates be for they call. If they are willing to pay these rates up front, they can call. This is the same system we have in place for radio and television stations which provide a communications channel for advertising.
